Time and cost saving by the MISUMI platform

Nowadays, when the industry is changing the suppliers should take care a lot of issues which was done by the end users in the past. The logistic solutions are more and more important to be able to reduce the costs. Most of the cases the cost is also the time what we can save during our procurement processes. Just few of the suppliers realized that in the modern world they have to be pro-active and find out what will be required by the customers in the future. MISUMI is one of them who can offer millions of own manufactured parts as well as more than 1.500 different brands as a distributor on a very advanced electronic platform from an european logistic center. Our slogan is „IT’S ALL ABOUT TIME” so we know how to save your time and cost end the end.

Gábor Boros has 20 years experience in the industrial supplier’s field. He was attended the PÁGISZ high school and Széchenyi István College in Győr but the real experience and knowledge came from the jobs during his life. His personal behaviour is also the same to help the people and solve their problems so he is lucky that he can work for a company who is doing it on an expert level.
